But, Kerri, I hope you won't expose my grandnephew to this stuff for more than a few listens. It's pretty low-grade rock. He deserves a better grounding. When I was his age I rocked to Sam & Dave, Mitch Ryder and, of course, The Beatles.

I'm delighted to find that this Ning network has some use after all! And, thanks again Matt for the trip down memory lane. :)

You're welcome. It's been quite a trip down memory lane for me.

Thanks guys! I love it. Evan is getting a kick out of these songs and that there was a band named after his Dad. :-) Matt, I really appreciate that you took the time to dig these up and get them on here.

By the way, Matt's already explained who did what. I just wanna emphasize that I had nothing to do with JH2 (Cardiac Arrest, Feel The Love), and was only backup to Paul on three of the JH1 tracks (Time, Talk With God, I Needed You). The only track that I can (somewhat reluctantly, 31 years later) take credit for is At The Disco.

We were just kids...

Kerri, please bear with Matt. He may not be so experienced at posting links on Ning. It requires some HTML know-how, but Ning is quirky even if you know some HTML. The easiest way to add music is to go to your own profile page and upload from there using the Music function.

Here are the songs he's posted so far:

> Cardiac Arrest

> Feel The Love

> Time

> Talk With God

> I Needed You

> At The Disco

Hi Matt, this clicks like one big link and only links to Time. Thanks!

Hi Kerri,
I can try again but I clicked on the name of each song and they seemed to play for me.

Matt, this is fantastic! Can't believe you uploaded these. Did you meant to upload three songs? I think there is a link to just Time.

Hey, listen to how the Avett Brothers used the kick drum as a heart on this song. They must have stolen the idea from Chuck Jackson.
